MANAGEMENT TRAINEECHICO

Mission Linen Supply has immediate opportunities for our Production Trainee Program in state-of-the-art operating plant in Chico, CA. This program is designed to place high-potential new managers on a track for career opportunities in production and general management at Mission Linen Supply. We are seeking hard working, motivated, and energetic individuals to work for a great company! RELOCATION REQUIRED: All candidates must be willing to relocate throughout training and first 1-3 years of career to qualify for program. This is a fast-track, nine-month program in which you are trained by the highest ranking operations managers in the company to lead your own production facility. In less than one year, you will learn what most of our production and service staff learn in five. After successful completion of the program, you move a Production Manager position at one of our 25 facilities, and ultimately, grow the General and District Manager role if desired. This is not typically an entry-level position

- We want managers who are ready to learn our industry, understand our customer-base, and lead/motivate a successful team. Production management experience gained during this program provides a strong foundation for understanding our business and assuming a leadership role in our Company. We will pair you closely with experienced operations managers and plant teams to learn all aspects of production management. Specific areas include: • Production workflow utilizing Lean Six Sigma techniques • Boilers and hydraulics • Plant equipment • Production scoring methods • Inventory control • Quality control initiatives • Cost control All along the way you'll have the support of senior management, complete progress reports from the learning and development department, and participate in company-sponsored management development workshops. Upon successful completion, you'll be qualified for promotion to a management position at a Mission facility. You'll be part of a management career track which includes opportunities for growth in key management positions throughout the Company. Industry experience is not required, as we look for dynamic individuals with leadership potential, and a strong business and customer orientation. • Military experience is welcomed • The ability to relocate after completion of the program is important for career growth.
