Butte County Library

Departmental Conference Room Policy

Updated: January 25, 2014

As an expression of its mission to connect people with information, ideas and experiences, the Butte County Library provides conference rooms in the Chico, Durham, Gridley, Oroville and Paradise branch libraries. These rooms may be used by members of the community for the presentation and exchange of information and opinions of a non-commercial nature. The only commercial activity that may take place in the Library's conference rooms will be Library sponsored and/or Friends of the Library events.

The Library makes these rooms available on equal terms to all persons and groups, regardless of opinion or affiliation. By making a conference room available as a forum, the Library does not sponsor or endorse the views of any group using the room, nor does it provide any supervision. These rooms are available to groups of at least five people.

- Conference rooms are primarily designed for Butte County Library and library support organizations' programs and use. When not in use by the Library or Friends of the Library groups, public agencies and non-commercial, cultural, educational or civic groups are welcome to apply for use.
- With at least five business days' notice, The Library may cancel confirmed reservations to accommodate Butte County Library sponsored activities. Library staff will notify conference room users in the event of cancellation.
- The Library reserves the right to review each prospective use and determine whether or not that use falls within this Butte County Library Conference Room Policy. Use of the premises may be terminated at any time if the conduct of the group, or any member of the group, is disruptive to Library service or abusive or dangerous to the building, Library materials, exhibits, furnishings or individuals in the building.
- Organizations may reserve no more than 12 slots during a calendar year. Rare exceptions may be granted by the Library Director or designee on a case-by-case basis.
- Use will be disallowed if paper application is not on file at the library.

The following must be observed:

- Meetings must be open to the public and no admission charged.
- No for-profit commercial activity may take place.
- Reservations for the room should be made in five days in advance.
- Keys will not be given if there is no application and use agreement on file with the library.
- Keys to the rooms must be picked up in advance; staff is not available to open the door when the Library is closed. Keys must be returned promptly to the Reference desk or placed in an envelope and deposited in the book drop after hours.

- All fire and safety rules must be followed.
- Smoking is not permitted under any circumstances.
- The posted capacity of the room must be observed.
- Aisles to exit doors must be kept clear.
- Electrical equipment should be checked for safety.
- Keep cords out of footpaths.
- The user bears full responsibility for any loss or damage to materials they bring into the Library; County insurance and/or financial resources do not cover exhibits or materials brought into the Library.
- County has the discretion to require user to obtain insurance, depending upon proposed use of conference rooms.
- County is not responsible for items left in the conference room.
- Materials may be displayed only on areas provided for that purpose or on easels.
- Users should be careful not to mar the walls with nails, glue, or other substances.
- Light refreshments may be served in those rooms where kitchen facilities are provided. Consumption of alcoholic beverages is prohibited.
- No janitorial service for moving materials or arranging furniture is provided. Users should set up and replace tables and chairs. Users are responsible for leaving the room in a clean condition. Users are responsible for damage to the room or County property in the room.
